N.B.—j indique le son du j euphonique biscayen; j la prononciation du j espagnol; j celle du j français; y le son euphonique de Goyerri; y celui de l'y français.

² Añibarro est le nom de l'auteur le plus connu parmi ceux qui ont adopté ces formes, (toutes naturelles à l'exception de la première), dans le dialecte biscayen. Elles ne sont du reste en usage que chez quelques écrivains et n'appartiennent à aucune localité de la Biscaye d'une manière spéciale.

³ Pour 'buruan,' dans la tête.
